Tabletop Academy Press, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 214 x 149 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Math Your Kids WANT To DoAre you tired of the daily homework drama? Do your children sigh, fidget, whine, stare out the window -- anything except work on their math? With the Math You Can Play series, your kids can practice their math skills by playing games with basic items you already have around the house, such as playing cards and dice. Addition Subtraction features 23 kid-tested games, offering a variety of challenges for elementary-age students. Your children can develop mental flexibility by playing with numbers, from basic math facts to the hundreds and beyond. Logic games build strategic thinking skills, and dice games give students hands-on experience with probability.Chapters include: Tens and Teens: Master the concept of number bonds and build a logical foundation for future math.Numbers to One Hundred: Develop mental math skills for working with larger numbers. Practice using place value, addition, and subtraction.Mixed Operations: Give mental muscles a workout with games that require number skills and logical thinking.Logic and Probability: Logic games sharpen inductive and deductive thinking skills, while games of chance build an intuition for probability.Math games pump up mental muscle, reduce the fear of failure, and generate a positive attitude toward mathematics. Through playful interaction, games strengthen a child s intuitive understanding of numbers and build problem-solving strategies. Mastering a math game can be hard work, but kids do it willingly because it is fun.If you are a parent, these games provide opportunities to enjoy quality time with your children. If you are a classroom teacher, use the games as warm-ups and learning center activities or for a relaxing review day at the end of a term. If you are...
